DETAILED ACTION

Non-Final Rejection

1. In view of the Appeal Brief filed on 5/22/03, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

1. Claims 5-10, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 5, lines 8-9, "integrally formed with joining parts by crush-molding" is unclear. The specification fails to provide support for "crush-molding".

Furthermore, it is not clear "joining parts" means joining main body 1 to the pillars (which is claimed but is not shown in the figures) or joining main body to the bracket 110a as shown in Fig 9.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 5-10, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanaka et al. (5,268,286) in view of Okuyama (5,037,130).

Regarding Claims 5-10, as best understood, Tanaka et al. (5,268,286) discloses in Fig. 1-4 the invention as claimed to include a main body constituted by a pipe 1 (known in the art with broad range of E and I), a steering bracket 4, a bracket or joining part 12, a U shaped stay 2, a reinforcing member 9, 10. Even though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production (crush-molding). (MPEP 2113).

However, Tanaka et al. (5,268,286) does not disclose an integral crush formed joining part.

Okuyama (5,037,130) discloses in Fig 3 an integral crush formed bracket (flat ends with two bolt holes for joining it to the front pillars).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the invention, as disclosed by Tanaka et al. (5,268,286), to include an integral crush formed bracket, as disclosed by Okuyama (5,037,130), so as to decrease the amount of parts needed to join the pipe 1 to the front pillars, thus saving material and manufacturing costs.
